CAREER OBJECTIVE

Seeking first time employment in a programming position, specifically frontend web development. I want experience working on professional projects with a team of skilled individuals, whom I hope to gain knowledge to help me further my abilities in programming. While I have practiced the skills I have listed on my own, and through the use of online resources, the immediate growth and guidance I will gain through senior coworkers would be invaluable. I want to make an impact in my work environment to prove to myself that the skills I have acquired are valid,
